

On the edge of the wild

digital animation

Digital animation | Duration : 5min 30s | Stereo | 4K

On the edge of the wild is a short visual series about our relationship with the wild world in contemporary society, between myth and reality, fabrication and denial. This work attempts to imagine the adaptation of wild species to human environmental modifications in an increasingly artificial future world. The question of the permeability of identities between human and non-human is the central issue.
